AGAIN SEARCH FOR FABULOUS WEALTH OF CAPTAIN KIDD

29th Treasure Expedition Explores Mysterious Shaft in Nova Scotia.

Chester, Nova Scotia .- For the seventh time in nearly a century and a half, treasure hunters are at work on Oak island near here seeking the fabulous wealth of Capt. William Kidd.

The most modern electrical mining equipment is being utilized in the present venture in an effort to cope with the tides of the Atlantic, which thus far have baffled the efforts of all searchers.

Whether or not the mysterious Oak island actually holds the loot of the notorious Seventeenth century buccaneer, there can be no question that it was sunk by men remarkable engineering feat.

Frederick R. Krupp of an engineering firm of Scranton, Pa., is directing the search. The shaft which is being sunk under his supervision is the twenty-ninth which has been attempted since three Nova Scotia woodsmen landed their canoe on Oak island in 1795, and were attracted to the "treasure shaft" by a mysteriously hewn oak.

Made It Life Work. These three men spent their lives digging for the treasure, eventually moving to the island. Other syndicates followed them at long intervals and it is estimated that in all. the quest for pirate gold.

As far back as 1830, drills brought up particles which were pronounced to be gold and in 1877 links of gold chain, and a fragment of parchment, containing illegible writing, were uncovered.

The treasure shaft itself had oak platforms every 10 feet for 100 feet down into the earth. The second group of treasure hunters came upon stone, mysteriously inscribed at a depth of 90 feet. This has since been thought to be a warning to those who knew the secret, that the next oak floor contained a tide trap which would flood the workings; for when the searchers bored through this floor, the water immediately rose 60 feet.

Ingenious Tunnel.

The present expedition advances the belief that the "tide traps" operated by means of an ingenious tunnel leading to the ocean and stuffed with coconut husk which forms a sort of sponge. The result is that water trickles through the rises in the treasure shaft, without allowing the tides to ravage the buried farther down, or to cut a channel through the island.

While most observers agree that the pit holds treasure of some kind, not all accept the theory that it is Kidd's hoard. Some believe that the shaft was sunk by refugees from the French revolution, to hide the valuables with which they had fled from their native land. Others suggest that the gold came from a French pay ship which was later lost at sea, about the middle of the Eighteenth century.

Romance Starts Singing

Terrier on Way to Fame Atlanta, Ga.-Romance started "Frisco Bill," three-year-old singing fox terrier, on his road to fame. Two years ago Miss Clair Haynes and her brother, Bradley Haynes of 509 Clair drive, owners of the dog, brought home a toy kitten. It was soft and white and fluffy.

Looking into the glass eyes of the kitten, "Frisco Bill" burst into song. It became a habit. He broadened his range of notes and was soon hit-ting a creditable "high C." Now when a member of the family gives him a piano or ukulele accompaniment, Bill-carries the tune, running the scale with apparent

Symphony Violinist

TOHN CORIGLIANO, talented violinist, and assistant concert-master of the New York Philhar-monic-Symphony Orchestra, has been chosen as guest artist on the Sunday concert program to be pre-sented by Columbia's "Heins Maga-sine of the Air" February 6th from 5:00 to 5:30 p.m., EST.

The artist will play "Londonderry Air", a traditional Irish melody, and "Caprice Basque", one of the most popular of Barasate's transcriptions, taken from a native Spanish theme.

Born in New York of Italian parents, Corigliano's musical studies began at an early age. He made his debut at Asolian Hall in 1919 his debut at Aeolian Hall in 1919 and two years later was engaged as soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra under Josef Stransky. Later he appeared with the Cleveland and St. Louis Orchestras, and gave several Carnegie Hall recitals. He has made coast to coast appearances with Marion Talley, Maria Jeritsa and Chaliapin.

Urges Jail Sentence For Hunting Violations

Aroused by the apprehension of a number of persons alleged to have been shooting pheasants illegally, Conservation Department officials were prompted to issue a stern warning which they hoped would put an end to this illegal

In commenting on the shooting of pheasants out of season, Commissioner Lithgow Osborne termed the practice as a flagrant violation of the Conservation Law and said that the department would strongly urge jail sentences for any one convicted of such a violation rather than the usual settlement of the assessment of a fine.

The commissioner further pointed out that the entire game protector force had been instructed to make a concerted drive in an effort to stop such violations.

Pheasants may be taken only during the open season which runs from the third Monday in October to the second Saturday immediately following, both dates inclusive, except that they may not be taken on the Sunday which occurs during the open season.
